Think of it. "I'se Gwine Down to Jamestown, the popular Southern melody composed by Mrs. Frances Goggin Maltby, is meeting with much success as a musical hit at the Jamestown Exposition, where it strikes its natural locale. The Public Ledger is pleased to note the success of Mason's gifted song-writer and hopes and Saturdaya of each week. othes popular compositions may follow from the author's versatile pen. Mrs. Malthy has written other songs-two particularly, "At Rest" be married, has been succeeded as clerk in the and "Little Alice," which have met with ap- Postoffice at Millersburg by Miss Katherine probation from the critical public.
